A close-up photograph of a hand wearing a white sock, positioned over a vibrant, multi-colored keyboard. The keys are in shades of blue, orange, and yellow. The background is a blurred, colorful pattern of these same hues, creating a sense of depth and focus on the hand and the keys it is touching.

ABOUT FREDDY MAMANI

Freddy Mamani Silvestre (born November 1, 1971) is a Bolivian self-taught architect noted for his development of the Neo-Andean architectural style. His work is most associated with the city of El Alto and with the new social class of upwardly mobile indigenous Bolivians.

ABOUT THE PROJECT

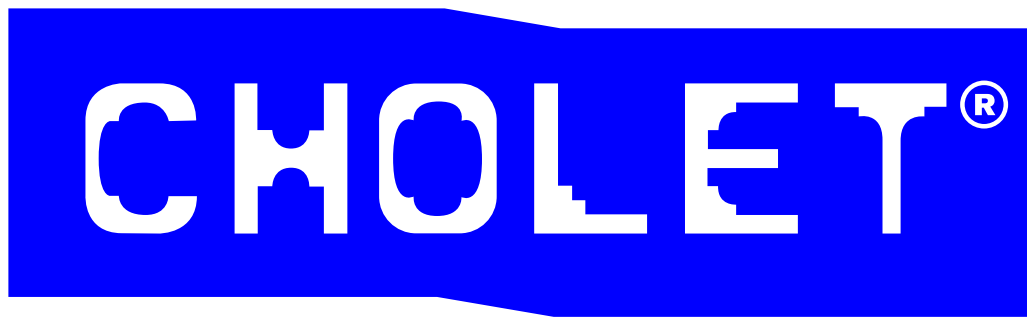

Freddy Mamani in collaboration with the artist Demsky and his studio NeoFvtvro® artist's residency project.

This project collects Freddy's classic metal doors and façades around constructions in El Alto, Bolivia.
